theScreeener extends ESG coverage to Funds & ETFs.

In addition to ESG data currently implemented for its equity analysis, Swiss research provider theScreeener is launching ESG data for its global fund and ETF coverage.

In response to growing demand, in part due to tightening regulatory requirement, theScreeener will be enhancing its global coverage of more than 15000 funds and ETFs with ESG evaluations based on data from Morningstar.

“We are extremely pleased with the outcome of our ESG data integration. Building on our affinity for actionable information, we have managed to distil a large amount of complex data and package it in a meaningful way, which will allow our users to utilize it efficiently”. Head of Development Alain Farwagi states.

The subsections of sustainable investment in which given funds are active, are represented through a system of icons on the funds ESG page. With this new data, using the fund screening capability, users can fine tune searches with up to 30 facets of sustainable investment.
